Fellow Travelers . . . .

May the burdens of chronological age

never separate you from the spirit of child

within;

May the onslaught of responsibility

never dull the sense of wonder that pervades;

May the world and its adolescent furies

find themselves unequal to the task of destroying

you;

And many years hence, may you be reminded,

and judge for yourself.

POLIC

"And even if we are occupied with most important things,

if we attain to honour or fall into great misfortune—

still let us remember how good it was once here,

when we were all together, united by a good and kind feeling which made us, . . .

better perhaps than we are."

Dostoyevsky
